(By Associated Press) WASHINGTON, Oct. 31.—Disagreeing with the war department recommendations for a permanent army of 300,000 men, General Pershing today told a joint meeting of the senate and house military committees that he thought the number should be placed at the outside figure of 275,000 to 300,000 and possibly less.

Caldwell, chief owner of the Horseshoe Divide and one of the principal stockholders of the Divide Extension, has put a full crew on the Horseshoe group which was getting into an interesting formation when the strike was called. A crosscut will be run both northwest and southeast to intersect known ledges in both directions. Frank Helm is in charge.

bodies on the Ricky Boulder and Lafayette groups. Prospectors and investors are flocking in from outside points, and the district is entering upon an era of development and investment prosperity similar to that being experienced at Simon and other silver districts of worth in southern Nevada.

The camp is reached from Tonopah via Coaldale and Emigrant Gap, and thence southward over the Fish Lake valley trail to the Kennedy ranch. Mining men who have returned from there of late report that investors from abroad have tied up several valuable mining acreages during the past ten days, that numerous auto parties arrive and depart daily and that on a single day last week that fourteen autos were parked near the Lafayette shaft.

The Lafayette Mining company, headed by Canadian mining men, and backed by Calgary bankers, has installed a hoisting plant with lifting capacity from a depth of 800 feet, has purchased a ton and one-half truck for freighting purposes, is moving in the necessary buildings for the miners from Blair and Goldfield, and is preparing to set up a four-drill compressor. The Lafayette group was recently purchased by the Canadians, who already have deposited a substantial development fund in a Tonopah bank.

At present, work at the property is confined to altering the collar of the shaft to conform with the incline of the latter and to the other duties incidental to mine development. The shaft has a depth of 100 feet and at that depth the drift to the north is showing three feet of ore sampling an average of $26 silver to a ton. It was the showing in this shaft, coupled with the very satisfactory assays obtained on the vein droppings over an extended area, which prompted the Canadians to take over the group.

At the Ricky Boulder group, recently purchased from Pat Tighe by J. L. Giroux, the noted engineer who for more than twenty years was associated with the W. A. Clark mining interests, it is proposed to immediately prosecute development work. To that end a two-compartment shaft will be sunk to a depth of 400 feet, where a crosscut will be run to contact with a fault between the group.

Hagel was whirled around by the car, falling in a sitting posture in front of it, according to witnesses, he car again hitting him and passing over him as he lay between the wheels. The wheels did not touch Hagel, according to persons who saw the accident, and it is believed his most serious injuries occurred when his head hit the ground as the car struck him the second time.

Regardless of these handicaps the local team promises to give the spectators a run for their money. Ticket sellers are much pleased with the patronage they have received and they hope to sell enough tickets to pay a good portion of the expenses of the game.

BELCHER ASSAYS ARE GIVEN OUT

Andrew Walz, representing eastern stockholders of the Belcher and other leading holdings on the Divide, was out on the Belcher Divide around yesterday with the result that he picked up the extension of the monster east and west ledge which was first found on the Belcher Extension. The ledge was found 300 feet east of the dividing line of the two estates, back of the old powder house which is a prominent landmark on the hillside. The ledge had been opened years ago as it was disclosed by a shallow trench. Assays from a sample taken from three inches gave $152.78 and $64.73 which checked up satisfactorily. Mr. Walz was accompanied by L. R. Robins, of the Belmont. It was this discovery that injected new life into the market this morning, as the news spread rapidly.

Superintendent Wilson has started work on the Victory with one full crew of underground men and it is believed that the Belchers will have crews by either Monday or Tuesday.

ALASKANS LOOK FOR HIGH PRICES

(Correspondence of Associated Press) CORDOVA, Alaska, Oct. 5.—By Mail—Alaskans who are setting out their trap lines in all parts of the territory this fall are almost certain of getting very high prices for their furs next spring. While the price of furs is not certain, it is generally believed they will not drop.

Last spring some silver fox furs brought as high as $475, marten $200, ermine $50, mink $15 and black skunk $8. These prices, however, were paid only for top grade furs. Some furs brought only one quarter of the top price.

REPORTED PURCHASE BY HAYDEN, STONE & CO.

One of the widely circulated stories this morning was that Hayden, Stone & Company of Boston had exercised an option on control of the Divide Extension. The report could not be confirmed but it served to stimulate buying of the stock which had been languid for several days.

Good resolutions are like mushrooms—most of them spoil overnight.

the order was set for November 8. The order enjoins officials from starting or encouraging a strike on the broad general grounds that disaster threatens the country and a strike would tie up the transportation systems of the nation.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 31.—The strike order has been rescinded in the district comprising one-half of the western Kentucky fields.

District No. 15, comprising Colorado, Utah and New Mexico, will not be affected. The men in these states operate under a contract with the government that has another year to run and they are expressly exempted from operations of the strike order. District No. 15 employs 25,000 coal miners.

(By Associated Press) INDIANAPOLIS, Ind., Oct. 1.—The injunction obtained by the government cannot avert the strike of miners, John Lewis, acting president of the United Mine Workers of America said.

Assistant General C. Ames, in presenting the petition for the injunction, said the case will not involve the general right of workmen to organize or quit work. He declared it would have no bearing on other industries. Under Judge Anderson's order union officials are forbidden to send out other orders tending to promote a strike or make it any way effective. Union officials are restrained from disbursing any union funds as a strike benefit.

Lunch was served at midnight when the dancers enjoyed pumpkin pie, cider, doughnuts and sandwiches. Dancing continued to 2 o'clock.

MORE TIME FOR PAYING TAXES

Two weeks extension of time for the collection of taxes has been granted by the Nevada tax commission. This action was taken owing to delay caused by the Nevada tax commission in fixing the rate for 1919. The order was issued in reply to a telegram from Mrs. Jennie A. Curieux, county auditor, as it was found impossible to deliver the tax rolls to the county treasurer in the time required by law.

First advice of the action of the Nevada tax commission came in a message reading: "Order of state board to add 18 per cent to valuation of lands and 20 per cent to county improvements has been rescinded. A few individual changes in your roll will be certified within next four days."

Replying directly to the suggestion of Mrs. Curieux the tax commission sent the following: "Orders will be issued to all county auditors extending time for completing tax rolls by two weeks and the same extension to county treasurers as to delinquency."
